

UNITED STATES INTERNATIONAL TRADE COMMISSION

Investigation Nos. 731-TA-1124 and 1125 (Review)

ELECTROLYTIC MANGANESE DIOXIDE FROM AUSTRALIA AND CHINA

DETERMINATIONS

On the basis of the record¹ developed in the subject five-year review, the United States International Trade Commission (Commission) determines, pursuant to section 751(c) of the Tariff Act of 1930 (19 U.S.C. § 1675(c)), that revocation of the antidumping duty order on electrolytic manganese dioxide (“EMD”) from Australia would not be likely to lead to continuation or recurrence of material injury to an industry in the United States within a reasonably foreseeable time and that revocation of the antidumping duty order on EMD from China would be likely to lead to continuation or recurrence of material injury within a reasonably foreseeable time.

BACKGROUND

The Commission instituted these reviews on September 3, 2013 (78 F.R. 54269) and determined on May 19, 2014 that it would conduct full reviews (79 F.R. 30163, May 27, 2014). Notice of the scheduling of the Commission's reviews and of a public hearing to be held in connection therewith was given by posting copies of the notice in the Office of the Secretary, U.S. International Trade Commission, Washington, DC, and by publishing the notice in the Federal Register on May 27, 2014 (79 F.R. 30163). The hearing was held in Washington, DC, on October 21, 2014, and all persons who requested the opportunity were permitted to appear in person or by counsel.

The Commission completed and filed its determinations in this review on December 15, 2014. The views of the Commission are contained in USITC Publication 4506 (December 2014), entitled Electrolytic Manganese Dioxide from Australia and China: Investigation Nos. 731-TA-1124 and 1125 (Review).

By order of the Commission.

Lisa R. Barton
Secretary to the Commission
