- Same
- Different (see Technical Comments section)

III. Other product information, including uses/applications and source(s) of imports

These torch vessels are open-flame lighting designed to be placed on top of tables. They use oil as a fuel source and the wick is made of fiberglass. The oil sits in a metal fuel canister that fits inside the decorative vessel made of thermoset polymer resin. Imports under HTS subheading 9405.50.40 amounted to $322 million in 2011, with China accounting for 77 percent of the total. India was the second-leading supplier, accounting for 14 percent.
